

BESPOKE PROJECTS & CONSULTANCY

Taran have been around long enough to understand industries and business IT requirements. There is a growing shift toward cloud-centric solutions that have either a steep learning curve or requirement for understanding.

Leveraging our experience, we offer our consultancy to delivery one-time, bespoke, or multiple projects for any customer regardless of them being an MSP customer of ours.

How we're different:

We're happy to engage however our customers deem appropriate. We wouldn't say no to a customer asking us to qualify a requirement, provide alternate quotes, or to ensure the direction and project is the right fit for business.

We take great pride in the work we do and the projects we deliver. Our name and reputation are core to our values, and we always ensure our customers or projects are delivered in the most cost-effective and timely manner without all the middlemen talk or professional services fees.

We only charge labour for implementation and not for consultancy. Consultancy, design, and information gathering are what we do week-on-week. We leave our customers trusting us in our approach to meet your project requirements.
